

ABSTRACT

A safety device for stirring assemblies to be applied to shelf paint vessels and the like, which includes a top portion including a coupling tooth for coupling to a top portion of the shelf, a driving screw mechanism, guide elements for arranging and centering a stirring cover, and a further coupling tooth for coupling to a bottom portion which is provided for covering an element for supporting a stirring assembly and all the driven elements of the device.